Best Paper Awards:

- R. S. Varma Best Paper Award Competition: Persons registered for Ph.D. in a university/ institute can submit their papers for 'R.S. Varma Best Paper Award Contest.' There is a cash award of 350 USD and a merit certificate for the winner. To be qualified for this competition, the student has to be the principal contributor to the paper and present it during the conference.
- The best paper award will be given at the end of the conference.

The 28th International Conference of the Forum for Interdisciplinary Mathematics is co-organized by the Department of Management Control and Information Systems, University of Chile, Santiago and the Forum for Interdisciplinary Mathematics.

The academic program of the conference will provide a unique meeting point for researchers, academics and students to interact and discuss their research ideas and present the latest enhancements and innovations in interdisciplinary mathematics, statistics and computational intelligence. The conference will consist of keynote addresses, invited talks, plenary talks, oral and poster presentations, symposia on different themes, Ph.D. Scholar best paper award competition.

Abstract/Paper Submission- Authors are requested to submit an abstract (carrying title, name(s) and affiliation(s) of the author(s), running in about 500 words) in English. Please use the online abstract submission link for submitting your abstract. Those interested in publishing their papers in Springer proceedings should submit full-length papers running in no more than 12 pages. All accepted abstract submissions will be published in an accompanying CD-ROM Proceedings. For more information regarding the abstract/paper submission, visit the conference website.

Registration Fee-	By 10 th October 2019	After 10 th October 2019
General	400 USD	450 USD
Student/ Research Scholar	250 USD	300 USD
Accompanying Person	100 USD	150 USD

The registration fee includes the welcome reception, access to all the special sessions, conference kit, lunch, and coffee during the conference, CD-ROM conference proceedings, plus additional conference handouts.

Note: 1. FIM life members will get a 20% discount on the standard registration fee. You are welcome to take 'Forum for Interdisciplinary Mathematics' membership.

2. The participants from India will get a 10% discount on the standard registration fee.

Conference Scope- Mathematics, Combinatorics, Statistics, Operations research, Computer Science, Information and Coding Theory, Fuzzy Set Theory and Its Generalizations with Applications, Modeling & Simulation, Decision Making and Expert Systems, Neutrosophic Sets and Systems with Applications, Computational Intelligence Techniques, Business and Economic Applications, Engineering & Physical Applications, etc.

Research Papers in other fields having mathematical contents are also welcome.

Conference Proceedings- All submitted papers will be peer-reviewed and accepted papers will be published in a book of proceedings by Springer in its book series 'Advances in Intelligent Systems and Computing'. The proceedings will be indexed in major databases, including the Web of Science and Scopus.

Special Issues - Extended versions of selected papers will be published in special issues of international journals indexed in the Web of Science-Journal Citation Reports.

Symposia/Special Sessions- Persons interested in organizing symposia/ special session in their areas of expertise are invited to submit proposals (up to 1 page) in MS Word or PDF format by email to the official email address of the conference fim2019.chile@gmail.com. It is expected that they shall independently be able to arrange a minimum of five presentations.

Note: The symposia/ special session organizer will get a 20% discount on the standard registration fee.
